[s. 25]

Operator may determine conditions for handling or warehousing of goods

27.-(1) The operator may-

- (a) determine conditions upon which goods shall be handled or warehoused and such conditions shall be published in the Tariff Book and have effect from the date of such publication or from such later dates as may be specified in the Tariff Book; and
- (b) determine the rates and charges for the handling, warehousing of goods or for any other service or facility; and such rates and charges shall be published in the Tariff Book and have effect from the date of such publication or from such later date as may be specified in the Tariff Book.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1), the operator may, in relation to the special circumstances of any particular case, determine conditions, rates and charges applicable to such case for the handling, warehousing of goods by the operator or for any other service or facility and such conditions, rate and charges shall have immediate effect in relation to such cases.

(3) The conditions, rates and charges determined pursuant to subsection (1) shall, if they are of a continuing nature, be available to the public.

[s. 26]

Description of goods to be delivered

28.-(1) The consignor, person or consignee tendering any goods for handling or warehousing, on request by an authorised employee shall deliver an account in writing signed by such consignor, person or consignee, as the case may be, containing the description of goods as may be sufficient to enable such employee to determine the rates and charges payable in respect of the handling or warehousing of the goods.

(2) For purpose of checking any account delivered pursuant to subsection (1), an authorised employee may require such consignor, person or consignee, as the case may be, to permit examination of such goods.

(3) Where the consignor, person or consignee fails to deliver the account or to permit such goods to be examined, an authorised employee may-

- (a) refuse to accept the goods for handling or warehousing unless a rate or charge not chargeable or payable for any class of goods is paid; or
- (b) refuse to deliver the goods unless a rate or charge payable is paid.

(4) Where in respect of goods which have been handled or warehoused by the operator, an account delivered is found to be false in any material particular to which it purports to relate, an authorised employee may refuse to deliver the goods unless a rate or charge not exceeding double the rate or charge payable for any class of goods is paid.

[s. 27]

Goods may be sold to pay rates

29.—(1) Where any person fails to pay on demand made by an authorised employee, any rate or charge due from him in respect of any goods, the Authority may detain the whole or any part of the goods or, if they have been removed from possession of the Authority any other goods of such person which may be in, or may thereafter come into, the possession of the Authority.

(2) Where any goods have been detained under subsection (1), the Authority may, if the rate of charge due is not sooner paid, sell by public auction goods sufficient to produce the rate or charge so owing and all the expenses of such detention and sale shall, in the case of-

- (a) perishable goods, such auction may take place at once; or
- (b) any other goods, such auction may take place on the expiration of at least fifteen days' notice of the intended auction published in one or more local newspapers.

(3) Imported goods shall not be sold under this section until they have been entered in the customs records as being for home consumption.

(4) The Authority may, out of the proceeds of any sale effected under subsection (2), retain a sum equal to the rate or charge due and expenses of the detention and sale; and shall deliver the balance, as remain unsold to the person appearing to the Authority to be entitled thereto.

(5) Where after notice such person fails to remove within a reasonable time such goods, or remaining unsold, the Authority may sell such goods and dispose of the proceeds of such sale in accordance with provisions of this section.

(6) This section shall not prejudice the right of the Authority to recover any such rate or charge, or part thereof, by any other lawful means.

[s. 28]

Unclaimed goods in possession of operator

30.—(1) Where any goods in possession of the operator are not claimed by the owner or any other person appearing to the operator to be entitled to such goods, the operator shall, if such owner or person is known, take all reasonable steps to cause a notice to be served upon him requiring him to remove the goods.

(2) Where-

- (a) the owner of any goods in the possession of the operator is not known and no person appears to be entitled to the goods;
- (b) the notice referred to in subsection (1) cannot for any reason be served; or
- (c) there has been a non-compliance with the provision of any notice served under subsection (1), the operator may, within a reasonable time not being less, except in the case of perishable goods, than three months, sell the goods and dispose of the proceeds of sale thereof.

(3) Goods shall not be sold under this section until they have been entered for home consumption in accordance with the provisions of the customs laws.

[s. 29]

Indemnity where goods claimed by two persons

31. Where-

- (a) any goods, or the proceeds of the sale of any goods are in the possession of the Authority and such goods or proceeds are claimed by two or more persons; or
- (b) any person claiming any goods in the possession of the Authority does not produce the documents showing that he is entitled to take delivery of such goods, the Authority may withhold delivery of such goods or proceeds, until the person appearing to the Director General to be entitled to the goods has given satisfactory indemnity against the claim of any other person over such goods or proceeds.

[s. 30]

Dangerous or offensive goods

32.-(1) A person shall not tender to the operator for handling or warehousing any goods to which this section applies without giving notice of the nature of such goods to the authorised employee to whom such goods are so tendered.

- (2) An authorised employee may-
- (a) refuse to accept such goods for handling or warehousing or accept them only under, and in accordance with, any special provisions dealing with the handling or warehousing of any such goods; or
 - (b) require any such goods to be marked and packed in such manner as he may reasonably direct.

(3) Where any authorised employee has reason to believe that any goods to which this section applies are being handled or warehoused, or have been accepted for handling or warehousing in contravention of subsection (1) or (2), he may examine such goods and if found to be goods to which this section applies he may order their removal from any vehicle of, or premises occupied by, the operator.

(4) Goods to which this section applies are any dangerous or offensive and any goods which are likely to cause damage to person or property.

(5) This section shall not derogate from the provisions of any law relating to the possession or transportation of explosives, petroleum, fire arms or ammunition.

Notice of claim

33.-(1) A person shall not be entitled for compensation for non-delivery of the whole of a consignment of goods, or for any separate package forming part of such consignment, accepted by the Authority for handling or warehousing unless a claim in writing, giving such particulars as may be reasonably be necessary, is given to the operator within six months of the date upon which such goods were accepted by the Authority.

(2) A person shall not be entitled to compensation for any goods missing from a packed or unpacked consignment or for misdelivery of, or damage to any goods accepted by the Authority for handling or warehousing unless-

- (a) the operator is notified of such fact in writing within four days of the date upon which such goods were delivered to the consignee or person entitled to take delivery thereof; and

(b) a claim in writing, giving such particulars as may reasonably be necessary, is given to the Authority within one month of such date.

(3) Where the person claiming compensation proves that it was impracticable for him to notify the operator, or give his claim, as set out in subsection (1) and (2) within the time specified therein and that such notification or claim was made or given in reasonable time nothing in those subsections shall prejudice the right of such person to obtain compensation.

[s. 32]
